

Digital Writing Program
(Grades 3-12)

Advanced Course.

Once you have learned the JSWP methodology, you'll want to access our digital components to include in your approach to teaching 21st century skills.

The digital library consists of three products:

- jswpOnline.com – A web-based application of the JSWP process that helps writers produce body paragraphs, introductions, and conclusions. The program prompts the thinking, and the writer progresses through each stage of thinking. Then, voila! Before you know it, you have a logical, organized paragraph. Whether you are a teacher, presenting the steps in Jane's program through the internet or your interactive whiteboard; or a student, creating a paragraph or essay for a writing prompt assigned to you by your teacher; or a business person, constructing a proposal, jswpOnline guides the writer through the thinking process of writing.
- JSWP® Google Docs templates for Argumentation, Expository, and Response to Literature.
- JSWP fillable .pdf's – Electronic versions of our graphic organizers

Writing is about Thinking. And digital writing continues to help students through the thinking process of writing. No more blank stares. No more blank paper. We take the mystery out of formal writing. Now, electronically!

Suggestion: Add this course to a one- or two-day training.
